

Department of Sanskrit & Indology

The Department of Sanskrit & Indology at Biswa Bangla Biswabidyalay introduces master's students to the depth and diversity of India's classical knowledge systems. Coursework integrates close textual study of Vedic and post-Vedic literature, classical Sanskrit grammar and poetics, philosophy (Darśana), and traditional sciences, alongside modules on epigraphy, manuscriptology, and the cultural history of South Asia.

Students gain practical skills in reading original manuscripts, using digital humanities tools for text editing, and tracing the reception of Sanskrit thought in modern scholarship. Regular workshops with visiting scholars, heritage-site field trips, and a small-group research colloquium foster critical inquiry and interdisciplinary dialogue. Graduates leave prepared for careers in teaching, archival curation, cultural heritage management, and advanced research—carrying forward the living tradition of Sanskrit studies while engaging contemporary questions in Indology and comparative humanities.
